laced with pretty girls and salted with bearded men. Marching bands and drum and bugle corps came from all over the State and Rhode Island, and their music and precision marching was a joy and a thrill. It was a wonderful windup to the week long celebration. We can't bring you the sound and the color but we can and do try to hit some of the highlights along the line of march with pictures. On our cover is the headquarters of the brothers of the brush as they appeared in the parade. These valiant men carried on in spite of itch and hot weather to grow some of the most luxurious foliage seen on the streets of Fairhaven in some 50 odd years.

The float at the bottom was a large and beautifully decorated happy birthday greeting to the town. Bouquets of glads and pretty girls were the topping.

PAGEANT IN FAIRHAVEN

Colby Benson, Jr. read the history of Fairhaven last Thursday evening in a program which capsuled Fairhaven's 150 years into one hour and a half of entertainment. As Mr. Benson unfolded the very interesting past of the town, tableaux on the band shell illustrated various scenes. Colorful costumes and scenery were spotlighted on the stage. Twenty-one scenes depicted the Indians, early settlers, British Redcoats, King Phillip's War and Henry Huttleston Rogers.

A bevy of pretty girls graces the large Acushnet float while a fortunate Indian contemplates the delightful present while symbolizing the rustic beginnings.

Easily the standout performance was that of Mr. Francis Whitmore. This 85-year old performer dressed and made up as Mark Twain gave the same lecture that the famous humorist had given at the dedication of the Fairhaven Town Hall. Twain, a friend of Henry Huttleston Rogers, had often been his guest in Fairhaven and appeared at the dedication as speaker. Mr. Whitmore's appearance was identical with Mark Twain's. As he spoke, he held the large audience fascinated as Twain must have done so many years before. Just before he left the stage he said quietly, "this is my swan song.

SCONTICUT NECK FLOAT - The appeal of the water is depicted on this entry. From the bathing beauty on the beach, to the fisherman, to the sailor, to the two water skiers on the back the water sports in Fairhaven are shown.

ANTIQUE CAR - Many fine antique cars paraded with engines purring quietly along. This model T is a good example of their beautiful condition.

I'm not going to learn any more lines."

People gathered in the park before 7 for the performance scheduled at 7:30. The performance was not to start for one hour after that as the performers waited for darkness. The pageant was written and directed by Miss Mary Smith and Miss Ellen Downey.

The Mattapoisett Yacht Club is off to a real active season this year. The clubhouse has been newly decorated and the racing season started on June 30th. The fleet may be seen sailing every Wednesday and Saturday afternoons in the Junior and Senior races. It is apparent there is considerably more interest in racing this year, and the club is boasting the largest fleet in many years.

The MYC was founded about 1900 and is one of the oldest yachting clubs in the country. For many years its membership consisted mainly of summer residents. During the past several years, with the acquisition of new facilities, the club has welcomed not only summer residents but anyone interested in boating in the Mattapoisett area. The basic purpose of the club is to promote and encourage pleasure boating in and around the waters of Mattapoisett. If you are interested in joining, please call Dick Young at SKyline 8-3533 or Dick Blasdale at SKyline 8-3526 for details .

COL. CLARK TO LECTURE IN MATTAPOISETT

The Mattapoisett Historical Society will present a free lecture given by the noted Marine Scientist Colonel Eugene S. Clark, Jr. on Friday, August 3rd, from 8 to 10 P.M. at Shipyard Park, near the town wharves. Another lecture is planned for August 31st.

The topic of Col. Clark's first lecture will be "Strange Creatures of the Sea". Aided by color slides a number of the strange and interesting creatures of the sea will be shown.

Living Hydroids, those strange little creatures looking more like plants than animals, will be shown along with the deep water sea stars, strange fishes from the deep and many others not commonly seen by people. Something of their lives and habits will be told. Illustrations of actual living specimens will be shown, photographed by the lecturer.

An interesting lecture for all ages to which the public is invited to attend.

In the event of rain the lecture will be held in the parish hall of the Congregational Church, Church Street, Mattapoisett.

The topic of Col. Clark's second lecture will be announced at a later date.
